Colorado Federal Courts

All counties are managed by the Denver Location, for both the District and Bankruptcy Courts.

Searching Standards for Federal Courts:

District Courts index by defendant, plaintiff, and by case number. Bankruptcy Courts usually index by debtor and case number. Most case files created prior to 1999 were maintained in paper format only. Since 2006, all cases are filed electronically. Paper case files may be stored at the courthouse or forwarded to a designated Federal Records Center (see <http://archives.gov/frc>), the timeframe determined by the Court. These case files may be obtained via the Court or directly from the FRC.

Case data may be viewed PACER, the online public access program. An account is required, the fee is $.10 per page; there is no fee if a usage does not exceed $15.00 in a quarter. For details about PACER see the Appendix or go to <https://www.pacer.gov> or call 800-676-6856.

The copy fee is $.50; $.10 if electronic document is printed from terminal. Certification fee is $11.00 per document and $21.00 for exemplification, if available. If a case is still available from the individual federal court, the search fee is $30.00. If the case is at the Archives, the case can be ordered from the court. The fee to retrieve a paper file is $64.00 for the first box and $39.00 ea add'l box. Also, the public can order copies direct online from the National Archives. Copies can be delivered by mail, fax, or email. See more information, including fees, at www.archives.gov/research/court-records/.55.

The Supreme and Appellate Court

The Supreme Court is the court of last resort. The Colorado Court of Appeals is usually the first court of appeals for decisions from the district courts, Denver Probate Court, and Denver Juvenile Court. The Court of Appeals also reviews decisions of several state administrative agencies. Opinions are online found on the home page.

Details on the Trial Court Structure

District Courts hear civil cases in any amount (District and County Courts have overlapping jurisdiction over civil cases involving less than $15,000), as well as domestic relations, criminal, juvenile, probate, and mental health cases. District court decisions may be appealed to the Colorado Court of Appeals and in some cases directly to the Colorado Supreme Court).

County Courts handle civil cases under $15,000, misdemeanors, traffic infractions, felony complaints (which may be sent to District Court), protection orders, and small claims. County court decisions may be appealed to the District Court.

Water Courts have exclusive jurisdiction over cases relating to the determination of water rights, use and administration of water, and all other water matters. There are seven Water Courts - one per major river basins - located in Weld, Pueblo, Alamosa, Montrose, Garfield, Routt, and La Plata counties.

The Denver Court System differs from those in the rest of the state, in part because Denver is both a city and a county. The Denver County Court functions as a municipal and a county court and is paid for entirely by Denver taxes, rather than by state taxes. The Denver County Court is not part of the state court system; the District Court is.

Municipal Courts only have jurisdiction over traffic, parking, and ordinance violations. Denver is the only county where the Probate Court and Juvenile Court is separate from the District Court.

Record Searching Facts You Need to Know

Most courts charge $5.00 per name for a name search and the copy fee is $.75, $.25 if self serve. Some courts charge $25.00 per hour. Certification is set at $13.00 per document. Almost all courts require a self-addressed, stamped envelope (SASE) for return of information.

Water Court records are maintained by the Water Clerk and fees are similar to those for other court records. To retrieve a Water Court record, one must furnish the case number or the legal description (section, township, and range) or the full name of the respondent (case number or legal description are preferred).

Online access to the trial court dockets is actually from several state-designated vendors. The vendors provide a statewide search. A register of actions available on commercial sites include civil, civil water, small claims, domestic, felony, misdemeanor, and traffic cases. Fees vary. See www.courts.state.co.us/Administration/Program.cfm/Program/11.

Also, for a free county docket search going back one week only, use the site at www.courts.state.co.us/Courts/Docket.cfm.

The limited jurisdiction Denver County Court is not in the statewide system, but has its own online access system at <https://www.denvercountycourt.org/search/>. The designated vendors providing the subscription services also will include a search of Denver, thus giving a true statewide search.

Document image copies are not available from any of the websites; file copies may only be obtained from the local court of record.

- Real estate Records: Counties do not perform real estate searches. Copy fee is usually $1.25 per page and certification fee is usually $1.00 per document. Tax records are located in Assessor's Office.
- UCC Records: Financing statements are filed at the state level - Secretary of State - except for real estate related collateral which are filed with the County Clerk & Recorder. At the few counties where UCC searches are still performed, a UCC search is usually $5.00 per debtor name and $2.00 for each additional year searched.
- Tax Lien Records: Federal and some state tax liens on personal property are filed with the Secretary of State. However, some federal and state tax liens are filed with the County Clerk and Recorder
- Other Liens: Judgments, motor vehicle, mechanics.
- Online Access: There is no statewide access to either recorded documents or assessment data. Online access is on a county basis. Most counties use the services of a vendor. See the links at <http://www.coassessors.com>. For most counties both free and subscription level searches are offered.
- The state archives provides limited "inheritance tax" records for 15 Colorado counties at www.colorado.gov/dpa/doit/archives/inh_tax/index.html. Generally, these records extend forward only to the 1940s.

Colorado County Locator

You will usually be able to find the city name in the City/County Cross Reference below. In that case, it is a simple matter to determine the county from the cross reference. However, only the official US Postal Service city names are included in this index. There are an additional 40,000 place names that people use in their addresses. Therefore, we have also included a ZIP/City Cross Reference immediately following the City/County Cross Reference.

If you know the ZIP Code but the city name does not appear in the City/County Cross Reference index, look up the ZIP Code in the ZIP/City Cross Reference, find the city name, then look up the city name in the City/County Cross Reference. For example, you want to know the county for an address of Menands, NY 12204. There is no "Menands" in the City/County Cross Reference. The ZIP/City Cross Reference shows that ZIP Codes 12201-12288 are for the city of Albany. Looking back in the City/County Cross Reference, Albany is in Albany County.
